Measure for the gate opening and cut the cedar down to size. For this project, the 2x4s were cut to 44 inches for the stiles and two were cut to 27-1/2 inches for the rails with a cross brace of 46-1/8 inches. NOTE: Decide the width of the gate opening, then factor in a slight gap of approximately 1 inch, so there's room for the hinges and latch that will attach to the gate and fence. Step 2 ...

Painting wrought iron fence can be a tedious task if not done correctly. The fence should be stripped of all paint, remove all rust, and make fence as smooth as possible before painting begins. This can be done either by manually sanding, using a sand blaster or paint and rust remover. Remove the old paint instead of trying to paint over it. This prevents the new paint from chipping and ...
